Planning Analysis.

In this presentation, I will outline my goals, identify my target audience, present my project concept, and provide references for all materials used in the design.

The Gentleman

The Goal for The Gentleman stemmed from my experience working in retail at River Island. I've always had a passion for fashion, but it was during my time there that I developed a deeper appreciation particularly for the more refined, professional style. This experience shaped my vision to create a website tailored to a specific demographic: men aged 27 to 37. My aim was to design a high-end, exclusive platform that not only celebrates sophisticated menswear, but also embodies the cultural essence of being a gentleman capturing both the style and the conduct that define modern masculinity.

LOGO

When designing the logo, I wanted to draw inspiration from traditional, old-style emblems known for their intricate details. During my research into vintage logos, I noticed a consistent trend these designs often carried a strong sense of craftsmanship and refinement. Given that the name The Gentleman is itself a homage to the classic ideals of masculinity and tradition, this detailed, timeless aesthetic felt like the perfect visual representation. The result is a logo that merges heritage with elegance an ideal reflection of the brand's identity.

LOGO COLOR

When choosing the logo colors, I was very intentional. I limited the palette to a maximum of three colors to keep the design clean and refined. I chose a deep green for its sophisticated and timeless feel, paired with a soft cream for contrast and warmth. Together, they create a balanced, high-end look that reflects the essence of The Gentleman brand

I selected the hex codes #FFFBF2, #262E19, and #262E19 for the website's color palette due to their strong visual harmony and contribution to a sophisticated design. Each color serves as a refined accent, working together to create a balanced, elegant aesthetic that reinforces the brand's high end identity
